

Statement of Flow Science, Inc. Operating Status

Flow Science, Inc. (FSI) is a relatively new company located in Los Alamos, New Mexico. At present the technical staff consists of three (3) full time employees and one (1) half time employee (all Ph.D. scientists and engineers) and one (1) office manager. Located in the central business district, the company occupies over 2000 sq. ft. of office space, which houses its computer terminals, word processor, mini computer, and other equipment. Because of its unique location relative to the Los Alamos National Laboratory, the company has use of one of the finest technical libraries in the world and ready access to many kinds of supporting services.

1981

